KATEHA●

POND FLOSSA - Pond is a tactile collection of handwoven rugs with a variation of heights and structures. The pattern is an abstraction of a fish shoal, tightly organized and coordinated in precise arrangements. Fast moving shoals usually form a wedge shape while shoals that are travelling can form squares. This has been interpreted in a collection of handwoven rugs in various colours. Charlotte von der Lancken has worked in close collaboration with Kateha and their weavers, using a combination of weaving techniques in order to achieve the diamond shaped rug and the different heights with handwoven pile. Pond pile rug has a finish of woven hemmed wool edges in a contrasting colour.
